PBH RESIDENTIAL CARE HOMES ANNOUNCES FLAGSHIP AGING-IN-PLACE HOME IN GRAND PRAIRIE, TEXAS
Construction family taps talents to build senior-inspired assisted living home

DALLAS (June 15, 2011) – PBH Residential Care Homes is just weeks away from debuting its flagship, licensed Type B senior assisted living home in Grand Prairie, Texas. A family-owned business and branch of PBH Construction, PBH Residential Care Homes' mission is to provide DFW-area "young at heart" seniors a modern, aging-in-place home with customized, sensible and safe living quarters where they can retain their dignity as they move and live comfortably with 24-hour assistance. Sitting on almost a half-acre lot in the established North Grand Prairie neighborhood, Keith Heights, the first PBH Residential Care Home is located at 902 N.W. 8th Street.

"We are thrilled to see our vision of PBH Residential Care Homes come to life with this first home," said PBH Residential Care Homes Owner David Green. "Our family has experienced first-hand how daunting and heavy-hearted the decision is when it comes to finding a credible, loving and safe aging-in-place home for your loved one. We're hoping to make that decision easier with a home that is unique, updated, thoughtfully constructed and senior customized."

The PBH Residential Care Homes team includes David Green, founder, president, co-owner and seasoned general contractor; Terri Green, co-owner and chief interior designer; and Jeffrey Green, co-owner, vice president, architectural and interior designer, and construction administrator. With their combined experience of 95 years in home construction, renovations, real-estate investments, architectural design, and interior decor, the team brings the right tools and talents to build a strong foundation for an aging-in-place home. What's more, PBH Residential Care Homes Co-owner and award-winning designer Jeffrey Green obtained his Certified Aging in Place (CAPS) credentials so that he could better understand the ongoing needs and challenges that the edlerly generation faces.

“We realized we had the experience, the talent and the heart to build a perfect small-group assisted living home,” said Jeffrey Green. “But I really wanted to try to put myself in the residents’ shoes in order to ensure we were going to produce a place that meets all of their individual care needs and still feels like a real ‘home.’ My CAPS training gave me that extra insight, and I’m excited to see the positive results in the form of very satisfied and happy residents.”

The PBH Residential Care Homes team approached the renovation of the Keith Heights location with the idea to merge updated home construction, architectural features and amenities you would find in today’s home renovation trends with the professional care and personal assistance you expect from a reputable assisted-living facility. What is emerging is a modern aging-in-place home perfect for seniors, ranging from very active to mobility-impaired, who need full-time assistance.

PBH Residential Care Homes Keith Heights is nearing the end of its renovations and is scheduled for completion in July 2011. Residents are expected to move into the home in August 2011. Some key features of the 2,686-square-foot home include:

- Credentialed professional care 24/7/365
- Additional licensing to care for persons with Alzheimer’s, dementia and related disorders
- Sophisticated home security monitoring system 24/7/365
- Real-time Web cam access to common areas
- Portable medical alert system for residents to wear or carry
- Expanded doorways, spacious common areas and anti-glare floors for easier mobility
- Private and semi-private rooms equipped with a phone (every resident will have their own phone line) and a flat screen television with basic cable
- Shared computer and Internet access with Skype capabilities
- Nutritionally sound and delicious meals
- Weekly housekeeping and personal laundry services
- Eco-responsible features like energy-efficient exterior windows and doors, and energy-saving appliances
- Recycled materials like recycled glass countertops, vintage light fixtures and recycled carpet tile floors
- Maintained and manicured grounds to create the perfect outdoor setting for reading, socializing, exercising, gardening and more
- Supportive services with area senior centers, including the Grand Prairie Summit
- Regular outreach and care consultations with residents’ family and friends
- Assistance with scheduling doctor appointments and refilling prescriptions

About PBH Residential Care Homes

PBH Residential Care Homes provides seniors a modern home with customized, sensible, and safe living quarters where elderly residents can retain their dignity as they move and live comfortably with 24-hour care assistance. Certified as Type B senior care homes, each PBH Residential Care Home accommodates at least six “young-at-heart” residents who are still active yet require full-time care. Unlike many elderly care homes, the interior and exterior of every PBH Residential Care Home has been remodeled and customized specifically to meet the everyday needs of the older generation. Each home is staffed with licensed caretakers that nurture and assist the residents 24 hours a day, seven days a week. PBH Residential Care Homes is a family-owned business and company-branch of PBH Construction.
